

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES

BRIGHT DAY WITH MUCH SMALLER CROWD.

Governor Pinchot's Address Was an Appeal for Observance of the Law of the Constitution.

Memorial Day was much like other Memorial Days except the crowd was scarce half a crowd. The streets were thronged with autos but the crowd on the sidewalks was smaller than for years. The excursionists were fewer. However the day as to weather and other environments was all that could be desired.

Major Nixon lead the procession Dr. H. Stewart being Chief Marshal and at the head of the column was the Gettysburg Band followed by the Battalion of the Reserved Officers Training Corps from Gettysburg College. Governor Pinchot and others taking part in program came next then followed the Veterans of three Wars, the Legion men of the World War, the Spanish American War and finally the veterans of the Civil War of 60 years ago. At High Street a thousand children joined the procession. When the cemetery was reached the beautiful ceremony took place of strewing the graves with flowers by the children and veterans.

At the Rostrom Dr. J. A. Clutz was Master of Ceremonies, the invocation was made by Rev. N. L. Horn, Lincoln's Gettysburg address was read by President Judge Donald F. McPherson and Dr. Clutz introduced Governor Pinchot.

The Governor's Address.

"As the years pass and the lives of men pass with them, the shining deeds which have forever consecrated great periods of our history loom ever higher. The men to whom we owe these deeds take ever more gloriously their places as the makers and preservers of the Nation, and receive in ever increasing measure their just due of admiration and praise.

"The more recent events of our National story neither hide nor obscure the great deeds of the past. Neither the sacrifices nor the significance of the Revolution are obscured or hidden by the sacrifices and the significance of the war between the States, nor do we appreciate less, but rather more, what was done for us by the men who preserved the Union because of the heroic actions of the men who in the last and greatest of all wars helped to save the world.

"You who fought for the Union and saved the Union deserve and are receiving more and more fully, more and more justly, as the years go by, the heartfelt gratitude of those for whom you saved it. You preserved it for us who came after you, and for those who will come after us. You solved your problem, which was the preservation of a united nation, so bravely, so wisely, and so well, that as the years have gone the Union has become ever stronger, and even the men whom you defeated now rejoice in the results of your victory. You saved the Union for us, but as you did your work when it was needed so you left it to us to solve our problems as the need arises in our day.

"In your day slavery was the enemy that attacked the Constitution of the United States and the integrity of the Nation. In our day another evil has undertaken to declare its independence of the will of the majority, and to impose its shackles on the people of the United States. You in your time conquered those who attempted to impose the black disgrace of human bondage upon the free states. It is our task to overcome those who would impose the black disgrace of nullification on the people of the Union which you preserved.

"I am not concerned with your opinion as to the wisdom of Prohibition. That is not the question. I am only concerned with the question of loyalty to the Constitution of the United States. That is the issue again today.

"The approval of the Eighteenth Amendment by the States of the Union was practically unanimous. None denies that it is a valid part of the Constitution of the United States, enacted in accordance with all the forms of law. No man of common sense contends that its provisions are otherwise than binding. Those who attack and disregard it do so in spite of its recognized validity. They attack it for one of two reasons—either because their personal profit is found in breaking the law, or because their loyalty to an appetite is greater than their loyalty to the Nation to which they claim to belong.

"You fought for the Constitution of the United States against open attack by men who risked their lives for what they mistakenly believed to be their rights. You fought them and you defeated them, but in the end you came to respect them, as men must always respect valiant antagonists willing to lay down their all for the cause in which they believe. Their attack was fearless and in the open. They fought with heads held high in the sight of all the world.

"The men against whom we, your descendants, must defend the Constitution of our Nation today fight in the dark, run from the police, and use the methods of the sneak thief and the underworld. With no higher motive than profit or appetite, no higher ethics than those of the bandit, the receiver of stolen goods, or the man whose god is his belly, for personal pleasure or personal profit they attack the fundamental law of the land.

"Their contemptible undermining of the document which cost so many lives of brave men to establish, so many lives of brave men to preserve, is far less formidable than the one which you overcome. It has neither dignity, sacrifice, nor depth of conviction behind it. It rests on motives that are wholly despicable, and it is associated with the lowest dregs of our population. It has nothing to commend it. No sound argument can be advanced in its defense. It is law-breaking, pure and simple, for personal profit or personal pleasure, and as such wholly to be condemned.

"Yet while its methods and purposes are such as every true American must and does despise, its results carry a real threat to the Nation of our loyalty and love. Successful law-breaking in one direction is an invitation to law-breaking in others. The attack is not alone on the Eighteenth Amendment, but on the Constitution as a whole. Our defense against these law-breakers defends the Constitution not merely against their attack but against that weakening of all respect for law, which is one of the worst results of this effort to undermine the foundations upon which our national life and welfare so securely rest.

"I do not doubt that you men who fought to defend this Nation against those who attacked its Constitution in your young manhood will join in its defense against those who attack its Constitution today. But I congratulate you upon this—you at least fought against open enemies who proved their manhood on the field of Gettysburg, and on a thousand other stricken fields, who held up their heads and looked the world in the face. We fight against the hidden forces of the underworld, whose weapon is cunning and whose motive is greed, and all the forces of disorder which have seized upon the Eighteenth Amendment as the pretext for their effort to weaken respect for all law in an insidious attack upon the Constitution for which you veterans risked your lives and which your comrades died to defend.

"We despise the motives and the methods of these modern nullifiers. We deny that anyone can call himself a good American who joins with them, or fails to practice that obedience to law which is the basis of our American liberty. We propose, God helping us, to use every power inherent in this Commonwealth to assert and vindicate our loyalty to the Constitution of the United States, and to crush, as it deserves to be crushed, the whole base and unworthy effort of the pleasure-seekers and the profit-seekers to bring contempt upon the laws and the institutions which make us prosperous and make us free.

Elsie Singmaster's New Novel.

Elsie Singmaster has surpassed herself in her new novel "The Hidden Road" just issued by Houghton, Mifflin Company. The dedication "To my mother and father" suggested an offering of the best and the conclusion was irresistible, it is a masterpiece. It is the psychological study of the developing heart and soul of a girl, developing out of the loves of her life, a girl who does things toward making a career, not for the worth while of the doing, but because of love for some man, making good in the eyes of her own love, while traveling the hidden road of sex attraction, until she arrives at her own salvation. The writer has arrived at that high art of telling a most interesting and charming story with the study or motive between the lines. The work is of that highest quality of art of passing gracefully from high spot to high spot, without an elaborate filling in of wearisome details, something is always left for the imagination and the high spots are illuminated with a real humanity. The glimpses of New York City are wonderfully charming and alone would make the book a success. The description of a deserted Jersey shore repossessed by sand dunes is most picturesque. The Pennsylvania Dutch vernacular is simply delightful—the ailing mother's reply "Nothing except I'm a little warmer than sometimes," the reply of the father to a protest about cutting down a tree "I didn't know it made anything out to you," and after an evening's pleasure the girl commenting "If we could have it always like sometimes." "The Hidden Road" will easily be in the class of one of the "best novels of the year" and should be a "best seller." Houghton, Mifflin Company, 2 Park St., Boston, Mass. Price $2.00.

School Honors.

The Senior Class of High School, the largest class in the history of the School, 62 in number will be graduated and honors have been announced. #### New Organ Fund.

At a picnic last week St. James Choir raised $650 in pledges for their proposed new organ, and those in charge of raising fund are enthusiastic and hopeful.

NEW GAME CODE IN FORCE

NUMBER OF CHANGES MADE IN THE GAME LAWS OF STATE.

Method Provided for a Three Days' Killing of Doe at End of the Season—Increased Fees.

The changes made in the game law by the new Game Code, approved May 24, 1923, effective immediately, in addition to being a codification of the old law, and repealing all former laws relative to game and wild birds, are as follows:

1. Protected Birds. The blue heron, green heron, and night heron are protected by Federal Law, and are now placed on the list of "protected birds," but under a special provision in Section 722 may be killed under State law when caught in the act of destroying fish in private rearing ponds. Before so killing, permit should be obtained from the Biological Survey, Washington, D. C.

The raven, formerly on the list of "unprotected birds," but very rare in Pennsylvania at this time, is now also classified as a protected bird.

2. Terms of Board Members. The term of appointment of Members of the Board of Game Commissioners is increased from three years to six years, expiring the third Tuesday of January instead of November 17th as heretofore.

3. Executive Secretary. The official title of the administrative officer for the Board has been changed to Executive Secretary, with the same duties and powers as heretofore.

4. Deputy Game Protectors. Years ago an act was passed permitting appointment, without pay, of a Deputy Game Protector in each county. Later another act was passed permitting the Board to appoint Special Deputy Game Protectors in unlimited numbers. In 1914 all Deputy Protectors were recalled. The list of Special Deputy Game Protectors became unwieldy, some of them changing location without advising the Department. The new code cancels the commissions of all Special Deputy Game Protectors, and gives the Board power to appoint, with the approval of the Governor, such number of Deputy Game Protectors as may be desirable. A division of penalties as allowed under the old law is no longer authorized.

5. Biennial Reports. The Board in the past made a report annually on December 1st. The Legislature passed a law two years ago requiring Departmental reports to be made biennially. The Code, in accordance with this requirement, directs the Board to make a report to the Governor June 1st of each even-numbered year.

6. Officers' Sworn Reports. Reports and expense accounts of officers have heretofore been sworn to monthly. The code provides that at such intervals as the Secretary may direct, not to exceed a period of six months, all officers shall make affidavit to the correctness of all accounts and reports filed in the interim. This will save $50 or more each intervening month, and serve identically the same purpose.

7. Powers of Officers. The powers of officers of the Board are all continued as they were in the old law, except the right to purchase and sell game to secure evidence, which was stricken out by the Senate Committee. This makes little difference, as a provision in Section 401 exempts duly authorized agents of the Board from the provisions of the law when actually acting in good faith for the State.

8. Resident License Fee. The resident hunter's license fee is now $1.25. This gives the Department $11.5 net, 10c being retained by the County Treasurers as previously. The cost of all printing for the Department, heretofore paid by the Printing Department, and now placed on the license fund, and bills appropriating money to help fence against deer and to pay for damages done by bears, etc. will take up a large part of the increase in fee.

9. Non-Resident License Fee. The non-resident hunter's license fee is now $15, instead of $10 as heretofore, or $14.50 net to the Department when issued by County Treasurers.

10. Persons Physically or Mentally Unfit. It is now unlawful for any County Treasurer, or any of his representatives, to knowingly issue a hunter's license to any person physically or mentally unfit to carry or use firearms. Heretofore the Board had power to revoke licenses so issued, but the Legislature deemed it best to prohibit the issuance of such licenses rather than provide for revocation after issuance.

11. Occupation of Hunters. On the license certificate the "occupation" of the licensee must now be given, and this will be inserted instead of complexion heretofore required.

12. License Period. The license period is fixed from May 1st to April 30th of the year following, instead of the calendar year as heretofore, and a hunter's license is necessary no matter what kind of birds or animals a person desires to hunt. Landowners and their families are given the same permission to hunt without a license as heretofore.

13. Revocation of Licenses. The law relative to revocation of licenses by the Board has been changed so

LUTHERAN MINISTERS WED

FATHER AND GRANDFATHER OF BRIDE OFFICIATE.

A Church Wedding With Elaborate Details and a Honeymoon to Niagara.

STERNAT—HOLLINGER—Rev. Henry W. Sternat, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Sternat, of Govans, Baltimore, Md. and a graduate of the Lutheran Theological Seminary of Gettysburg in May and who accepted a call to the Lansdowne Lutheran Church, Baltimore and Miss Mary Hollinger, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Hollinger of Hanover were united in marriage in St. David's Church, West Manheim Township, York County, on last Friday evening at 7 o'clock. #### High School Year Book.

The Gettysburg Times in its issue of Tuesday, May 29, stated, "Bigger and better than ever" is the appellation that can easily be given the "Chronicle," the 1923 year book of the staff of the "Maroon and White," the Gettysburg High School publication, which made its appearance Monday afternoon.

More profusely illustrated and with more pages than any previous "Chronicle," the 1923 year book justly takes its place among the best publications ever issued by a High School staff.

In a dark brown artificial leather binding, on the front of which is inscribed on a gilt shield "G. H. S. 1923," the book carries its high quality from cover to cover.

The many departments of the magazine are well balanced, and apparently no effort was spared to make each the best possible. While the book gives a complete history of the various activities of the graduating class, the other three classes in the school each have a place in the "Chronicle."

The "Chronicle" is dedicated to Miss Nellie K. Blocher, Latin instructor at the High School. Miss Blocher, a native of Gettysburg, received the degree of Bachelor of Arts from Gettysburg College in 1907. She taught at Wildwood, New Jersey, for several years, and in 1912 became head of the Latin department at the local High School.

The athletic department contains cuts of the teams of the three major sports at the High School—football, baseball and basketball, and each man's record for the past year in the sport or sports in which he participated.

Special sections of the publication are devoted to the musical department, to the dramatics of the school, to the Hi-Y Club, to the Alumni Association, and to many other activities at Gettysburg High School.

A much enlarged advertising section takes up space at the back of the book.

George A. Scharf was editor-in-chief of the "Chronicle" with Clifford C. Bream and Robert Miller as business managers. Others who assisted in giving the book its perfected appearance were Jessica Weaver, Vera Kadel and Frances Grider, literary editors; John Mickle, exchange editor; Mark Redding, Mary Swope, Anna Tawney and Bernard Veimer, present day problems; Sara Black, Richard Beard and Anna Zeigler, humor editors; Isabelle Martin, Harold Thomas and Anna Sefton, music editors; Marion Chronister and Raymond Rebert, science editors; Catherine Musser, 1923; Mary Rife, 1924; Louise Ramer, 1926, class editors; Catherine Hartman, Ralph Wible, Glenn Stauffer, Floyd Brown, Richard Stock and Anna Mumper were art editors; Ellen Tipton, Lily Dougherty, Elizabeth Schriver and Henry Scharf, alumni editors, and David Orler and Arthur Musselman, athletic editors.

There is another item which modesty does not forbid a newspaper from mentioning, that the "Chronicle" came from the Gettysburg Compiler Press.

High School Trip.

The High School Senior Class inaugurated a new commencement feature of a trip to Washington. Fifty six members of the class in charge of School Directors A. B. Plank and George P. Black and Supervising principal Miss Helen E. Cope left on Thursday morning in 12 autos for the Capitol city. They were slightly delayed by a break down of a car of a member of the class. They lunched a few miles from the city and then went on to the Metropolitan Hotel and at 12.45 had an audience with President Harding. Then came sight seeing in the city. They visited Mt. Vernon and Arlington in their own cars on Friday, reaching home in the evening.

Battlefield Hotel Opens.

The Battlefield Hotel and Restaurant under new management of C. S. Rogers will formally open at end of week. The place has been overhauled and put in good shape and will make its appeal to many travelers and citizens.

DEMOCRATIC VICTORY CLUBS

PENNSYLVANIA AT HEAD OF LIST IN NUMBER OF CLUBS.

Gettysburg is in the List With a Victory Club for the Presidential Campaign for 1924.

Pennsylvania leads the list of states in the number of Democratic Victory Clubs organized to date, according to announcement today of Chairman Cordell Hull of the Democratic National Committee.

Seventy-four clubs have been enrolled thus far as a result of Chairman Hull's request for a club of at least twenty in every town and a club of at least ten in every ward in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

For purposes of organization and to finance the party, Chairman Hull is forming a "National Democratic Victory Club, to win in 1924," in each of the 6,000 towns of the country. A club president is appointed in each and asked to enroll a minimum of twenty members, each of whom pays dues of $5.00 a year to the National Headquarters.

Among the eight states where the enrollment has already started, Pennsylvania comes first with seventy-three clubs and North Carolina second with sixty-one. West Virginia is third with forty-four.

Chairman Hull today issued a list of the Pennsylvania clubs, designated as the "Honor Roll," showing the club presidents who have organized clubs in their towns to date.

Uniontown is given as the "honor club" on the roll, a club of fifty-four members, under the presidency of C.
A. Rhoads, having been formed there.
George R. McLean at Wilkes-Barre stands second with a club of forty-two. Edward S. Haws at Narbeth is third with thirty-four and G. J. Higgins at Shamokin is fourth with thirty-two.

Four club presidents are tied for fifth place, each having enrolled a club of twenty-eight. They are:
Sharpless M. Deitz, Danville.
J. L. Spangler, Bellefonte.
Mrs. Edith B. Allen, Williamsport.
Curtis H. Gregg, Greensburg.
In the list of ward clubs in the two big cities, Philadelphia is way ahead of Pittsburgh. The former has enrolled and reported twenty-eight wards, while in Pittsburgh clubs have been enrolled in only two wards.

To know
how good a cigarette really can be made
you must try a

William A. Staire

The following statement was issued by Chairman Hull today concerning the above Victory Clubs and their

Presidents:

"Every man or woman who enrolls

a National Democratic Victory Club

renders a service that cannot be measured.

He or she makes it possible for the National Headquarters to categorize and organization THIS year.

Each one can feel that, due to his effort, the Party is not going to wait until the last three months, and then try to elect a President, but is doing what all Democrats want it to do—working and fighting every day, between elections as well as during the heat of the campaign.

"The Republicans, with their unlimited means, are flooding the country with propaganda in a desperate struggle to overcome our lead and we must combat their efforts now—We cannot wait.

"I am forming a Victory Club in every town in the Union, and the Victory Club President in each town is the keystone of the arch. The whole structure depends on him.

"That is the reason I am deeply grateful for and appreciative of the services rendered by the loyal men and women who have already enrolled their clubs and, through them,

thank the loyal Victory Club members who have sustained them. Such cooperation will bring Democratic success next year and will serve to emphasize the vital part played by the Victory Clubs this year in producing that result."

Auto Owners to Have Title Certified.

The Metcalf Title Bill requiring all owners of motor vehicles to have ownership certified by the State

Highway Department has been approved by Governor Pinchot.

Under provisions of this law within the next six months, before November 24, owners of motor vehicles must have the title certified to the department and receive a certificate for which a charge of $2 will be made.

After the six months period is ended,

all new cars will be titled at a fee of

50c. and the title will be passed to the owner through assignment on the payment of $2 fee.

This act is merely a revenue-raiser, despite some protection it offers to vehicle owners. Within the next few months 1,000,000 titles will be requested.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarhal deafness,
and that is by a constitutional remedy.
Catarhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. The inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

YOUNG MAN FALLS 200 FEET

AT THE BLUE MOUNTAIN STONE COMPANY NEAR CHARMIAN.

Falls on the Rocky Floor of a Quarry, Lives Several Hours, but Never Regains Consciousness.

John A. Andrews, a young man, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Andrews, and living near the road leading from Charmian to Emmitsburg, and employed by the Blue Mountain Stone Co. at their quarry in Franklin county, met his death by accident early last Friday morning. He was working alone when a bucket from the quarry was dumped of its contents of stone and was shoveled to the side. The bucket is operated on a steel cable stretching from a stone crusher enclosed in building at top of mountain, to the foot of the mountain, being operated by electricity. Carl Warren was in charge of the electrical apparatus on Friday morning. He heard a shout as the bucket was about 300 feet from the station on its return trip after having been at the foot of the mountain. Immediately following the stopping of the apparatus he heard a faint thud at the bottom of a deep valley over which the cable was suspended. It is thought the clothing of the unfortunate young man caught in the bucket hooks, as his clothing was found torn. The body fell about 200 feet and while Andrews was alive when found he did not regain consciousness and death followed several hours later. The coroner at Chambersburg held that an inquest was not necessary.

On May 23, Miss Carbaugh underwent an operation for the removal of her tonsils and adenoid growths. Erysipelas developed, her condition grew critical and Wednesday it was decided to rush her to the Mercy hospital as the only means of saving her life. Mr. Carbaugh, the father, is formerly from Berlin Junction, this county and the mother, before marriage, was Miss Annie Elime, of Littlestown. LARGEST ENTERTAINMENT
Annette Delmonte and her troupe of young lady riders, her remarkable carrier pigeons and the scores of renowned Gentry Bros. animal actors, human arenic stars and unusual novelty features will be seen when Gentry Bros. Famous Shows combined with

James Patterson's Big 4-Ring Trained Animal Circus come to Gettysburg on Thursday, June 14 to exhibit afternoon and night and to parade the principle streets that morning with a mile of pageantry, an open air review of great beauty and colorful attractiveness, including open and closed cages, camel tandem teams, mounted bands, 200 ponies, beautiful horses, elephants, dromedaries, clowns, tableau wagons, and Mother Goose floats filled with the most beautiful performing dogs in the world.

Committee reduced this age to 16 years. The purpose of this feature is to save the lives of the boys.

15. Failure to Carry License. Persons hunting with their tag displayed properly, but failing to have their license with them are now given 20 days instead of 15 days as heretofore in which to file affidavit stating reasons why they were unable to produce their license to secure a return of the forfeit stipulated.

16. Report of Kill. This new section of the code requires all licensees to send to the Board not later than 30 days after the expiration of hunters' licenses a report on a form attached to the license of all wild birds and animals killed.

17. Failure to sign License. Non-Resident Fine. The penalty for hunting with a license not properly countersigned is reduced from $20 to $5, and the penalty for a non-resident hunting without a license has been increased to $40 instead of $25, because of the increase in the non-resident license fee.

18. Imprisonment Discretionary. The penalty for killing an elk has heretofore been $200 and six months imprisonment. For a second or subsequent offense the law heretofore required the payment of the cash fine and imprisonment one day for each dollar of fine imposed. This has been changed so that the imprisonment feature in such cases is left to the discretion of the court throughout the entire act.

19. Collecting licenses. The law relative to collecting specimens for scientific exhibition or educational purposes has been clarified and the number of specimens that may be taken slightly changed to better serve the purpose intended.

20. Record of Ferret Sales. All ferret dealers must in the future make a record of all sales, showing the name, address, and ferret license number of persons purchasing ferrets before sales are consummated.

21. Fur-Dealer's License. Fur dealer-persons purchasing or receiving raw furs for commercial purposes will hereafter be required to procure a fur-dealer's license costing $1.00 and at the end of the year make a sworn report of the number of each kind of furs purchased, their value, etc. The Board may refuse a fur-dealer's license if deemed advisable. The penalty for violation is $25.00. This will protect the country boys against unscrupulous fur buyers.

Open Seasons.
22. The bill introduced would have placed the open seasons for all small game in the month of November. The House Committee changed practically all of these seasons back to the old law, and the Senate Committee made a few amendments, with the result that the open seasons are exactly the same as under the old law, except the season on wild waterfowl and the raccoon season. The season for waterfowl will start October 1st and end January 15th instead of beginning September 16th and ending December 31st, and for the raccoon will begin October 1st, as heretofore, and run through to February 15th instead of January 31st. Male ring-neck pheasants only may be killed in the future, and the law relative to deer has been changed so that only male deer with two or more points to one antler may be killed, with a safety feature added providing that a deer with an antler six or more inches long without points shall be considered legal. The purpose is to get all deer hunters to look for a rack of antlers and not try to measure inches with the naked eye, thus preventing violations, securing a better breeding radio, and make it safer for sportsmen. For the convenience of sportsmen.

23. Bag Limits. Bag limits all remain in the same as under the old law, except the daily bag limit for male ring-neck pheasants is 2 instead of 3, and the camp limit of bears is increased to 4 instead of 3.

24. Closing Counties. The power of the Board to close counties, as the bill was introduced, permitted the Board to close to game or fur-bearing animals of any kind for a term of years, and the Senate Committee added amendments permitting the Board to close for a series of years during any part of the general open season. This will mean that if actually necessary the length of the general open season may be reduced by the Board upon petition from the residents of a county. This power will probably not be exercised except where very unusual conditions prevail.

The House Committee added an amendment stipulating that petitions to close counties must represent residents from a majority of the townships or boroughs in the county, and the original draft included a provision requiring at least 50 per cent of the petitioners to be regularly licensed hunters.

25. Extending Season. The new section was added giving the Board power to extend the season, if special conditions exist that warrant such action, for squirrels, rabbits and woodcock, upon petition of at least 200 citizens, at least 50 per cent of whom were regularly licensed during the preceding season, for a period not exceeding one month at such time as may be deemed necessary between January 1st and August 20th.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Herbst of York spent several days this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Reinicker, York street.

—C. W. Stock, Broadway, spent several days last week in Atlantic City, attending the convention of the Penn'a. Bankers Association.

RENEWED TESTIMONY.

No one in Gettysburg who suffers backache, headaches, or distressing urinary ills can afford to ignore this Gettysburg woman's twice-told story. It is confirmed testimony that no Gettysburg resident can doubt.

Miss Mary Dillman, 263 S. Washington St., says: "My back was very weak and hurt all the time. Backache bore down on me as if I had a great weight on my back. My kidneys were too frequent in action and when I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, I purchased some at the People's Drug Store. This remedy gave me fine relief and has never since failed to benefit me when it was necessary to use them."

The above statement was given February 15, 1916, and on April 11, 1921, Miss Dillman said: "Nothing could ever make me go back on Doan's Kidney Pills. This fine kidney medicine drove all symptoms of kidney trouble from me. Every once in awhile I take a few Doan's to be sure my kidneys are still in good shape."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy. Get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Miss Dillman had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

THE OZONO CURE

The nose is the vital section in most colds. Practically all colds can be prevented if proper preventive means are taken. Germs are every where and ready to be sucked into the life when lodged in the warm nose. Then follows colds, grippe, tonsillitis and catarrh. Fortify yourself against germs, prevent catarrh and colds. Ozono is a preventive. If you suffer we give positive assurance that Ozono will stop hawking and spitting, reduce inflammation, stop excessive flow of mucus, make breathing easy and check fresh colds. A week's use will convince you. Don't suffer send for it at once. Pay the postman or enclose one dollar with name and address and we will mail a large tube of Ozono with guarantee of its efficiency. If you don't care to order, write stating your case, our laboratory will furnish expert advice.
